First Announcement

22nd NSSA Symposium to be held at
GOODERSON KLOPPENHEIM COUNTRY ESTATE,
Machadodorp, Mpumalanga, South Africa

11-15 May 2019

Gooderson Leisure's Kloppenheim Country Estate is an ideal country retreat venue for our 2019 Nematology Symposium. It is merely 2-hour's drive from Johannesburg International Airport, OR Tambo, close to Machadodorp off the main route (N4) to the Kruger National Park. Kloppenheim brings old-world charm, attention to detail and pampering to discerning guests wanting a reclusive retreat in an ambience reminiscent of a stately highlands theme. This exquisite estate is located in a climate renowned for its cold, misty winters and crisp summers.

Machadodorp is a small town situated above the escarpment in South Africa's Mpumalanga Province, with the famous Elands River running through the town. There is a natural radioactive spring, which is reputed to have powerful healing qualities. Like most of the towns in this area such as Dullstroom, the key to their popularity and success is its natural beauty and quaint nature.

The symposium will focus on the latest nematology research by fostering the science of Nematology. Information and research results shared at this meeting will be valuable due to its practical application within agriculture and will enhance the relationship and collaborations between nematologists and commercial entities. Ultimately, interaction by delegates will offer interaction between all parties involved in Nematology research.

Details regarding registration costs, accommodation options, abstracts and the conference programme will be provided in the second announcement
